Short Verbal Test Assessment Report

Introduction to this report

The SVT is a test of verbal critical reasoning: the ability to objectively identify logic or the lack of it in written argument and avoid making unwarranted assumptions or jumping to conclusions.

This ability is central to most positions at the graduate or equivalent level as well as in managerial and professional occupations.

This report highlights:

- The speed at which the candidate worked - the number of questions they attempted.
- How accurate they were in their answers – the number of correct answers.
- Their graded performance – i.e. poor, below average, average, above average, or outstanding by comparison with other test-takers.
- Their performance by comparison with other test takers on a 10-point scale.
- Their performance as a percentile score - the percentage of the norm/comparison group their score was as good as or better than. For example, a score at the 75th percentile means they have done as well as or better than 75% of the comparison group. This would be graded as “above average”.
- Note: assessors should use the data in this report alongside other information about the candidate, for example personality data such as the Managerial and Professional Profiler (MAPP) or the Graduate Personality Profiler (GPP) as well as biographical and interview data.

The scores which are described in this report are based on comparisons of results with a specific comparison group of over 5,500 graduates/managers (NOT the general population).
